in the stake presidency who is moving to Walnut Creek, was succeeded by Ren Hoopes, bishop of Oakland Ward.

Rex Gardner was released as president of the stake mission and Arnold Johnson is taking over this post. Helene Christensen, Emma Taylor and Virginia Christensen were sustained as members of the Relief Society board (with Lottie Smith as president).

Joyce Osborne, moving to Los Angeles, was released as president of the YWMA. Margaret Wright is the new president with Faye Lloyd and Judith B'letier as her counselors. Charles Houston was released as Sunday School superintendent and Raymond Baumforth sustained.

Apostle Marion G. Romney represented the General Authorities and Owen Reichman of the General Board for Home Teaching and Loren Wheelwright of the General Board of the Sunday School were also in attendance and gave outstanding talks. Henry F. Royce, president of the West Spanish Mission, with headquarters in Los Angeles, urged all to assist in the Church's attempt to bring the Gospel in their own language to those in the western states who spoke Spanish.

Because of the magnitude of the changes in the stake leadership, and the fact that both the retiring and the new officers were asked to speak, the talks were characterized by gratitude for all the things which the Church and those in it had meant in their lives and tributes to those retiring to other work in other fields. The importance of the family unit and the means of better training of children was mentioned by several speakers. Honesty, integrity, thrift and communication were all given as necessary components in character building.

YOUR Messenger--How Do We Serve You Better?

Rejuvenation of your far-from-depit monthly Messenger of Northern California is the aim of a reorganization plan launched at a meeting of the intersake governing committee Aug. 26 at San Leandro, called at the request of interested stake presidents.

First order of business was an expression of appreciation to Dr. Morille George of San Francisco Stake, who has headed the committee for many years. Next item was to name Dennis Lauper temporary, then "permanent" chairman. Last item was to decide on frequent meetings, the next of which is tentatively slated for 8 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 28, at a place to be announced.

In between the first and last items there was discussion of such problems as:

* Clearer definition of the purposes of the Messenger and means of attaining them.

Presiding Bishop At San Leandro Stake Conference

Presiding Bishop John H. Vandenberg will speak at the San Leandro Stake Conference Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 9 and 10.

Other visitors representing church headquarters in Salt Lake City will be Elder Bryan L. Bunker of the Priesthood Home Teaching Committee and Elder Samuel L. Holmes of the Sunday School General Board.

Meetings will be held Sunday at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. in the East Bay Interstate Center, 4780 Lincoln Ave., Oakland. Stake President A. Gifford Jackson, 992 Collier Drive, San Leandro, will conduct services. Visitors are welcome.

* Increasing participation among the wards of the participating stakes by (1) more active interest from some of the stakes (2) extension of service to wards whose bishops have refrained from participation for one reason or another (3) possible expansion beyond the three-county area now served to stakes that have indicated desire to participate (4) prompt reporting of directory changes for up-dating the mailing lists.

* Increasing revenues by promoting advertising.

* Improving editorial content.

During the discussion it was charged that some wards had been omitted consistently, though their reporters had sent in news faithfully, that other ward reports are unintentionally humorous, that too many pictures are used, that editing could be improved, that paper is "full" of errors, and that the paper has various other shortcomings. On the other hand, there were several nice compliments.

THIS IS WHERE YOU COME IN. WHAT DO YOU THINK? write your opinion on a postal (or letter) and send it to The Messenger, 2496 Warren Road, Walnut Creek, 94529. DO IT NOW so the committee may be guided by your counsel.

In preparation for the next meeting of the committee, Chairman Lauper named several sub-committees that include one on publicity and promotion to include all those present, auditing, headed by Vao Cheney, San Leandro Stake; advertising, Marcel Lauper, Oakland-Berkeley Stake; circulation, Melvin Jeppson, San Francisco Stake and Richard K. McDonald, Hayward Stake; reporting, Dea E. Roe, Oakland-Berkeley Stake; editing, A. E. Gilbert, Walnut Creek Stake.

Oakland 1st, 3d MIAs Are Merged

By Mary D. Westover

Big news this month is the merger of the MIA groups of the Oakland and the Oakland 3d Wards, effective Sept. Because Temple wards tend to adult rather than youth groups, it was felt that the effectiveness of the MIA work would be enhanced by joint organizations. The new officers of the YMMIA are: Alvin Taylor supt. Norval Alexander age group counselor and Bill Barber activity counselor. In the YWMA Jeanne Mahoney is president Isabel Morgan age group counselor and Bonnie Barker activity counselor.

Another successful get-together was our Interfaith Night Aug. 3 Arnold Johnson was general chairman, and 300 people were served at dinner, following which the film "Man's search for Happiness" was shown and the displays showing the scope of the various auxiliaries were visited. While these were directed to non-member friends, they were enjoyed by all those who attended. President Peterson and his full-time missionaries activity supported the event.

Martha P. Thomsen

Funeral services for Sister Martha P. Thomsen, 46, were held Aug. 12 at Mission Ward. Interment was at Placerville. Sister Thomsen died Aug. 9. She was born in Idaho, the daughter of Walter K. and Bena Willes of Pocatello and married Kenneth A. Thomsen.

A member of Mission Ward for 12 years, she had been a counselor in the Relief Society and Primary, a Sunday School worker, and active Church member. Her husband is an elder and former MIA assistant. Her oldest son Walter is a member of Balboa Ward. Her second son James is on a mission in the Western States Mission at Denver and holds the Duty to God award. Younger sons Donald and Robert are active in Priesthood, Scouting and MIA.

Joy Crocker On October Temple Hill Concert Schedule

By John and Etta Todd

Mrs. Joy Crocker, of the San Francisco Conservatory of Music staff, will share some of her favorite music gems with the audience in the Inter-state concert Oct. 1.

Born in San Antonio, Texas, she was started on her music career by her mother, Kathryn Bail Rush. She also studied under Angela Diller, piano teacher and writer of harmony books for students, and Harold Bauer. Her organ study has been with Donald Willing, head of the organ department, New England Conservatory of Music, and Luther Noss.

Her background includes studies in conducting with Robert Hickok, and Gustav Meyer, assisted by Iva Dee Hiatt (now Smith College) with the University of California Chorus, conducting classes and choral repertoire work.

Mrs. Crocker's husband, Richard L. Crocker, is associate professor at the University of California.

Mrs. Crocker also gained much experience as improvisatory pianist and music therapist on the staff of the Connecticut State Hospital, a center for schizophrenic children, and with the Veterans Administration Hospital, West Haven, Conn. She has also served as organist for several Protestant churches.

She will play:
Eight Little Preludes and Fugues (BWV 553-560); Johann Sebastian Bach 1685-1750—Prelude and Fugue in C Major; Prelude and Fugue in d-Minor; Prelude and Fugue in e-Minor; Prelude and Fugue in F-Major.

These little masterpieces in miniature are among his most widely known gems: Prelude and Fugue in G-Major; Prelude and Fugue in g-Minor; Prelude and Fugue in a-Minor; Prelude and Fugue in B-Major. (One rarely hears them played this way, as an artistic whole by a concert organist.)

First Symphonie pour Grand Orgue (Opus 14) by Louis Vierne 1870-1937—Prelude; Fugue; Pastoral; Allegro Vivace; Andante; Final. (A French organist, Vierne was a pupil of Franck and Widor. He was organist at Cathedral of Notre Dame in Paris from 1900. This piece is designed to display in magnificent fashion the full resources of the Grande Orgue.)

'Y' Workshop Draws School Journalists

More than 260 high school journalists, from nine western states attended the 11th annual High School Publications Workshop at Brigham Young University Aug. 7-11. Dr. Elliot Camenson, dean of students at BYU, welcomed the students with the admonition, Students should recognize the need to be well informed to be accurate, and to write in such a way so as not to be misunderstood."

San Francisco Ward

Ken Brown Returns To Salt Lake City

By Gloria Stacke

San Francisco Ward lost a fine man and willing worker when Ken Brown, after seven years in San Francisco, left to return to his home in Salt Lake to accept employment there.

Ken and Hilma Glew, busy Temple workers, are back from a month's vacation in Washington, Oregon, and Utah, where they visited many old friends and enjoyed a family reunion of the Glews, including Ken's 89 year old mother.

Brother and Sister Samaii had their baby daughter Shireen blessed. Sister Samaii really put into practice "Every member a missionary" when she introduced the gospel to her Iranian neighbor, Kamyar, who became her husband.

Michael Marquardt has returned from the service, more recently from Germany. Michael, a real student of the scriptures, has many color slides of various church sites about which he can narrate upon. Michael enjoys sharing his time and talent. His phone is 221-6790.

Capt. John Jennings stake Sunday School superintendent, has been assigned to Viet Nam. John and his bride Suzanne have been a popular couple.

Naomi Bauman, along with her daughter Jean and friend, Alvina Mairs, have returned from Yellowstone and the Grand Tetons. Naomi

Jensen-Christiansen

Verland Max Christiansen, youngest son of the late Verland Lee and Sister Fern Christiansen of Walnut Creek Ward, took as his bride at the Oakland Temple Aug. 19, Susan Jensen daughter of Patriarch Leonard & Sister Ebba Jensen of Upland, Calif. They were honored at a reception on the lawn of the Walnut Creek Ward chapel that evening. Max plans to pursue his studies in business administration at Sacramento State. Susan received an associate in business degree at BYU. Max is a graduate of Del Valle High School and has studied at the "Y," and at Diablo Valley College. He served a mission in the Gulf States.

(granddaughter of Parley P. Pratt) has a busy family. Her oldest, Sheri, saw fruition of her loving efforts when she and her husband Dick Zingmark were married in the Temple and had their three daughters sealed to them. Nick Baumann has been on a tourist visa of Europe and the Near East for a year working his way from one country to another. He worked on a chicken ranch in the aza Strip just before the recent Israel-Arab conflict. Jeannie, now 15, has been literally dancing off with awards as she has participated in recent Irish Feis where she received certificate of excellence for her Irish step-dancing. Naomi's husband Carl is well-known in bay area art circles. Many of his paintings hang in various San Francisco homes. Carl is busy with his 32 aquariums of rare and tropical fish.

New Bishopric For Clayton Valley 2d Ward

A few weeks later Bishop Sutton's business required his moving to southern California. The bishopric was reorganized with Gomer J. Arnold as bishop, Keith L. Wood, 1st counselor and Jon Fitt, 2d counselor.

Bishop Arnold is a native of Cleveland, Utah. He is an educator and dean of boys at College Park High School. Jon Fitt was born in Salt Lake City, but has made the bay area his home since 1946. In 1956, while attending Brigham Young University, he married Doris Lott in the Salt Lake Temple. They are now the parents of four children. Following his graduation from B.Y.U. he spent four years as an officer in the U.S. Air Force, with assignments taking him to Texas, Saudi Arabia, Pennsylvania and Oklahoma. Hayward Ward

Derrell Roberis Now Eagle Scout

By Marge Simard

In an impressive Court of Honor Derrell Roberis, 15, of Hayward Ward was awarded the Eagle badge, scouting's highest honor, June 11.

Speakers on the program characterized Derrell as "persistent," with a stick-to-it quality necessary to complete the many and difficult requirements for this high award. His Eagle was pinned on him by Scoutmaster Edmond Newton of Troop 802. Others who had worked with him along the way and participated in the program were Bishop Quentin Hunter, Scoutmaster Bruce Hepworth, Bishops Bernard O. Stewart, Shannon Murphy and Glen Rouds, as well as Derrell's father, Max Roberis.

All Cub Scouts in Pack 802, Boy Scouts in Troop 802 and Explorers in Post 802, in full uniform, took part, presenting the Colors, and presenting the Eagle Candidate in a ceremony which showed his progress through scouting.

In addition to outstanding achievement as a Scout, Derrell has held office in his Priesthood quorums, performing his duties faithfully, has participated in the recent dance festival and quartette festival, has been a Seminary officer, a member of the Honor Society in junior high school, had an entry in the Science Fair, obtained his Duty to God award last March, and daily delivers newspapers on a difficult hill route.

John Wallman

By Marilla Bodily

El Cerrito Ward feels keenly the loss of John Wallman at Scout Camp Wolfboro June 30. John was the son of Mary Wallman and the late James Wallman of Albany. John lost his father just two years ago and was the mainstay for his mother and as the oldest of three sons. Surviving are his mother, Mary, and brothers Jim and Peter.

While at Scout Summer Camp a group of the boys went down the river for a hike. It was hot so they took off their shoes and sat on the bank of the very full North Fork of the Stanislaus River. They had been requested not to swim so did not try to but did cool their feet in the water. The accident happened so quickly that no one was sure just what occurred. Apparently John started to get up but either slid or had he bank erred from under him and as in the rapidly-moving water before the other three could give him a hand the boys had presence of mind to try to run down the bank in an effort to reach him if he was washed toward the shore. To their dismay the stream carried him across the river and out of reach. Help came from camp and he was recovered downstream about three miles but the trip down the rocky river and the falls was too much to survive.

John was an honor student for six semesters at Albany High School having completed the ninth grade and would have been 15 Aug. 11. With his family he had spent a year in France from September 1963 to August 1964 and his command of the language had placed him second for northern California in examinations given nationwide by the National Association of Teachers of French. Students are classified so competition is fair on whether or not they have had foreign experience.

John was a fine pianist and enjoyed music. He was a faithful at tender of the 5:30 a.m. Seminary last year. He was a Star Scout,

Bay Ward Chapel Plans Readied

By Maureen Daines

Plans are moving ahead to start construction on the Bay Ward chapel. Early this summer members of the ward met at the site on the corner of Pacific and Gough Streets, San Francisco, to clear the land of weeds and debris. Drawings of the floor plan and building are in the final stages. The building will be of prestressed concrete. Seating in the chapel will be 300, with room for an additional 600 in the cultural hall. The lower level will contain the relief society room along with 23 classrooms and other rooms needed to provide for the various ward activities.

Sixty thousand dollars has been raised for the building. Recent fund raising projects included the "Bakeless Bake Sale" July 4. Instead of having an actual baked goods sale, members donated the amount they would have spent at the sale.

Bay Ward went "Ukrainian" for the fund raising dinner July 15. Beef stroganoff and pilaf were served in a Ukrainian atmosphere created with paintings and red and yellow streamers. The theme was carried out with entertainment which featured Loi Anne Eyring, violinist; Ted Hopkins, pianist; Dorette Rose and Nazareth Boyadjian, vocal soloists; and Elaine Thuber and Antonio Mendoza, dancers.

Primary graduation in July was a memorable evening. Bishop Maury Schoff spoke at the graduation. Those graduated were Brooks Erb, Linda Girsbeck, and Linda Watson. After the graduation exercises a mother-daughter luau was held. Teriyaki steak, rice and baked yams were served. The program which followed included the movie, "Discover Hawaii." Hula lessons given by Linda Girsbeck and her mother, Virginia Beebe was in charge of the evening's activities.

Harry and Freda Raub are on a six month vacation that will take them through Canada and the East. Members of the ward recently married include Dorothy Rose to Sidney Feller June 2, Carolyn Teeple to Clyde Murphy June 17, and Darrell Reavis to Martha Guzman June 24.
